Steeve

Steeve is a modern, modular system imagined for the refined home or work environment. Customizable in a wide range of fabrics, leathers and finishes, Steeve's three versatile components – bench, armchair and sofa and relative modules – can be arranged to accommodate any interior space allowing for countless configurations. Steeve's silhouette is solid and architectural while at the same time appearing slender, light and volumetric.

The seat frame consists of lacquered steel tubing fitted with elastic belts for improved suspension and aluminum glides. The backrest and armrests are made in birch plywood, upholstered in polyurethane/fiber and available in fabric, leather, faux leather or customer's fabric upholstery. The backrest and armrests come in three different external veneered finishes. The collection includes modular elements of different sizes, also available in the L-shaped (90°) and V-shaped (135°) modules, with repositionable armrests. The collection is completed by the cushions, available in three different sizes. The upholstery is made in fabric, leather, faux leather or customer's fabric.

Designer

Jean-Marie Massaud, 2015

Since the beginning of his career (as 1990 graduate of Paris' ENSCI-Les Ateliers, Paris Design Institute), Jean-Marie Massaud has been working on an extensive range of works, stretching from architecture to objects, from one-off project to serial ones, from macro environment down to micro contexts. Major brands (Arper, Axor, Christofle, Air France, Toyota) have solicited his ability to mix comfort and elegance, zeitgeist and heritage, generosity and distinction.

Beyond these elegant designs (from stadium, flying hotel, concept-car to art table and furniture collections) his quest for lightness – in matters of essence – synthesize three broader stakes: individual and collective fulfillment, economic and industrial efficiency, and environmental concerns. His creations, whether speculative or pragmatic, explore this imperative paradigm: reconciling pleasure with responsibility, the individual with the collective.
